Shree Anjaneyam Prasannanjaneyam Prabhadivyakayam Prakeerti Pradayam Bhaje Vayuputram Bhaje Valagatram Bhajeham Pavitram Bhaje Sooryamitram Bhaje Rudraroopam Bhaje Brahmatejam

Meaning: Sri Anjaneya is gracious, his divine body shines, and he gives great fame. I worship the son of Vayu, the one with the tail, the pure one, the friend of the Sun, the one in the form of Rudra, the one with the radiance of Brahma.

Batanchun Prabhatambu Sayantrambu Nee Namasankeertanal Jesi Nee Roopu Varninchi Neemeeda Ne Dandakam Bokkatinjeya Noohinchi Nee Moortinim Ganchi Nee Sundaram Benchi Nee Dasadasundanai Ramabhaktundanai Ninnu Ne Golchedan

Meaning: Singing your names morning and evening and describing your form, I thought of writing a Dandakam on you. Looking at your image and thinking of your beauty, as a servant of your servants and a devotee of Rama, I worship you.

Nee Katakshambunan Joochite Vedukal Jesite Na Moralinchite Nannu Rakshinchite Anjanadevi Garbhanvaya Deva Ninnencha Nenentavadan

Meaning: Look at me with your kind glance, make me glad, hear my prayer and protect me. O god born to Anjana Devi, how can someone like me praise you enough?

Dayashalivai Choochite Datavai Brochite Daggaran Nilchite Tolli Sugreevukun Mantrivai Svami Karyarthamai Yegi Shreerama Saumitrulam Joochi Varinvicharinchi Sarveshu Poojinchi Yabbanujun Bantu Gavinchi Yavvalinin Jampi Kakutsthatilakun Dayadrushti Veekshinchi

Meaning: It is enough that you look at me with kindness, save me as a giver would, and stay near me. Long ago, as Sugriva's minister, you went on your master's work, saw Sri Rama and Lakshmana, asked who they were, and worshipped Rama, the lord of all. You brought Sugriva, the son of the Sun, into Rama's service; Vali was killed, and Rama, the pride of the Kakutstha line, looked on with kindness.

Kishkindhaketenchi Shreerama Karyarthamai Lanka Ketenchiyun Lankinin Jampiyun Lankayun Galchiyun Bhoomijan Joochi Yanandamupponga Yayungarambichchi Yaratnamun Dechchi Shreeramunakunnichchi Santoshunin Jesi

Meaning: You came to Kishkindha and, for Sri Rama's work, reached Lanka. You killed Lankini, burned Lanka and found Sita, the daughter of the earth. Full of joy, you gave her Rama's ring, brought back her jewel, gave it to Sri Rama and made him happy.

Sugreevuda Yangada Jambavantadi Veeradulan Goodi Yasetuvun Dati Vanaraneekamul Penmookalai Daityulan Drunchaga Ravanundanta Kalagni

Roopogrudai Kori Brahmandamainatti Ya Shaktinin Vesi Ya Lakshmanun Moorchhanondimpaga

Meaning: With Sugriva, Angada, Jambavan and the other heroes, you crossed the bridge. As the great monkey armies destroyed the demons, Ravana, fierce as the fire at the end of time, threw his mighty Shakti weapon and Lakshmana fell unconscious.

Nappude Neevu Sanjeevinin Dechchi Saumitrikinnichchi Pranambu Rakshimpaga Kumbhakarnadulanveerulan Bori Shreerama Banagni Varandarin Ravanun Jampaga

Meaning: At once you brought the Sanjeevani herb, gave it to Lakshmana and saved his life. The battle was fought with Kumbhakarna and the other warriors, and the fire of Sri Rama's arrows killed them all, and Ravana too.

Nanta Lokambulanandamai Yunda Navvelalandun Vibheeshanun Vedukan Dodukan Vachchi Pattabhishekambu Cheyinchi Seetamahadevinin Dechchi Shreeramutojerchi Ayyodhyakun Vachchi Pattabhishekambu Sanrambhamaiyunna Neekanna Nakevvarun Goormi Leranchu Manninchinan

Meaning: Then all the worlds rejoiced. Vibhishana was gladly brought and crowned king. Sita was brought back and united with Sri Rama, and they came to Ayodhya. At the grand coronation, Rama honoured you, saying that no one was dearer to him than you.

Shreeramabhakti Prashastambuga Ninnu Sevinchi Nee Namakeertanal Jesite Papamulbayune Bhayamulun Deerune Bhagyamul Galgune Sakala Samrajyamul Sakala Sampattulun Galgune

Meaning: The devotee asks: when one serves you with true devotion to Sri Rama and sings your names, will sins not leave? Will fears not end? Will good fortune, every kingdom and every kind of wealth not come?

Vanarakara Yo Bhaktamandara Yo Punyasanchara Yo Dheera Yo Veera Neeve Samastambu Neeve Mahaphalamuga Velasi Ya Taraka Brahmamantrambu Sandhanamun Jeyuchun Sthiramuga Vajradehambunun Dalchi Shreerama Shreerama Yanchun Manahpootamaina Yeppudun Tappakan Talatu Na Jihvayandundiyun Deerghadehambu Trailokya Sancharivai Rama Namankitadhyanivai Brahmavai Brahmatejambunan Raudra Nee Jvala Kallola Ha Veerahanumanta

Meaning: O you in the form of a monkey, the wish-granting tree of your devotees, the one who walks the holy path, the steady one, the brave one. You are everything, and you are the great reward. Chanting Rama's name, the Taraka mantra, you took on a body as hard as diamond. Saying "Sri Rama, Sri Rama" with a pure mind, I think of you always: stay on my tongue. O brave Hanuman, who moves through the three worlds in a mighty body, meditates on Rama's name, and blazes like a fierce flame with the radiance of Brahma.

Onkara Shabdambulan Kroorasarvagrahaneekamun Bhoota Pretambulan Pishacha Shakinee Dhakinee Mohinee Galidayyambulan Needu Valambunan Jutti Nelan Badan

Gotti Neemushti Ghatambulan Bahudandambulan Romakhandambulan Drunchi Kalagnirudrundavai Brahmaprabhabhasitambaina Needivya Tejambunun Joochi Rarori Na Muddu Narasinha Yanuchun Dayadrushti Veekshinchi Nannelu Nasvami

Meaning: With the sound of Om you take every cruel planetary trouble, every ghost and spirit, the pishachas, shakinis, dakinis and mohinis and the spirits of the wind, wrap them in your tail and dash them to the ground. You crush them with your fists, your mighty arms and even the hairs of your body, and stand like Rudra, the fire at the end of time. Seeing your divine light, bright with Brahma's radiance, I call to you, "Come, my dear Narasimha": look on me with kindness and protect me, my lord.

Yo Anjaneya Namaste Sada Brahmacharee Namo Vayuputra Namaste Namaste Namah ||

Meaning: O Anjaneya, salutations to you. Salutations to you, who are always a brahmachari. Son of Vayu, salutations to you again and again.
